

Good Evening Mrs Quek. I would like to share with you that Cikgu Haidah is one of the many best teachers that you have.

She is always willing to help my son and constantly gives constructive feedback about his progress. I am truly happy to have her as my son's MT teacher for 3 years since he was in P4. She believes that my son could improve and do better in MT as my son is not fluent in Malay as he speaks mostly in English at home. This year will be his graduation year and what truly touched me is that she believes that my son could score an 'A' and if he pushes himself further, he could even get an 'A*'. As a mother, I am appreciative of her gestures and she always gives feedback based on facts, not on just something that parents want to hear. I still recalled the first time I saw her during the meet the parents session, and the first thing she said was, "Tell me something nice about your son." I was really taken aback as no teacher had ever asked me that kind of question. Instantaneously, it put a smile on my face and I personally feel that every parent would be happy to be asked that.

The positive feedback that she constantly gives has been fruitful. Being a parent, it is always nice to receive genuine feedback, about my son's strengths and weaknesses. My son always talks about her and never once has he complained about her getting angry. Even if she is angry, it is not directed to one person, she reprimands as a whole class. I have never heard my son complained that she belittles him. She has also harnessed confidence in every child.

"Those who educate children well are more to be honoured than parents, for these only gave life, those the art of living well." (Aristotle)

Despite her busy schedule, she makes time to meet me when I could not make it for the parents meeting. Her enthusiasm and passion is shown in her character. Her genuine care and concern for her students is shown through her expressions and gestures too.

Her dedication is very much appreciated and I am hoping that my younger child could also have her as the MT teacher. It is always nice to build rapport with a teacher who is sincere and kind-hearted and think well of her students despite knowing their weaknesses. This will not only motivate the children but the parents too.

She truly deserves all the commendations that the school could provide. I believe that she is a great asset to the school.

I hope the school would continue to have the same MT teachers or even Form Teacher to follow through the child in his or her years at CZPS or at least in the last 3 years at CZPS. In this way, the teachers would be able to see the holistic development of the child and could cater to their individual needs as children would also bloom to their fullest potential with proper guidance.

Thank you
