

International Biodiversity Day

Our school celebrated the International Biodiversity Day on 22 May 2014. We planted our 5th tree, the Gelam tree, in our Eco Garden to support the Green Wave movement. It is believed that the Malay village, Kampong Glam, is named after this tree. Every part of the Gelam tree can be of use, this reminds our pupils of the school value of Service to Community, where our lives has to be of use to the society. The new PaVE Chairperson, Mdm Aysha, was the Guest-of-Honour for the tree watering ceremony.

Besides the tree watering ceremony, a mini exhibition was held by our pupils and PaVe members on the Young Scientist Projects and composting programme respectively.

Our school also invited the PCF kindergarten pupils to our school for a day-camp that day. Through the activities, the pupils learnt about the importance of maintaining biodiversity for a sustainable future. They were given a planter kit to grow at home. This is in support of the NParks' s "Every Child a Seed" Programme which aims to nurture the habit of greening the environment from young.
